Putnam Sleighting Party Entertained By Mrs. Louis N. Elliott—Junior Red Cross to Meet.

William Broughton's home is displaying a service flag.

Friday evening of last week Mrs. Louis N. Elliott entertained seven Putnam people who came on a sleight ride. The supper consisted of oyster stew, doughnuts, coffee, pop corn balls and apples. Games and a pleasant evening.

Common garden sage brewed into heavy tea, with sulphur added, will cure skin, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, streaked or gray. Mixing the Sage Tea and sulphur paste at home, though, is troublesome. An easier way is to get a bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur compound at any drug store all ready for use. This is the old-time recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is painful, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound, you can tell, because it does it so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and pass this through your hair, taking no small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, lustrous, soft and luxuriant.

This preparation is a delightful toilet requisite and is not intended to cure, mitigate or prevent disease.

LANSDOWNE CONCURS WITH WILSON AND GEORGE

Ready to Prolong War Until Clean Peace Can Be Obtained.

London, Jan. 31.—The Marquis of Lansdowne in an address today said that he concurred entirely with the recent speeches of David Lloyd George, the British prime minister, and President Wilson on peace aims.

"I believe all of us are ready to prolong this war, as terrible as it is, until we can get a clean peace," said the Marquis of Lansdowne.

Lord Lansdowne added that the time for obtaining such a peace should not be too long delayed and that no opportunity should be neglected to bring it nearer.

"By a clean peace I mean a peace which will be honorable and durable," he said.

Continuing, Lord Lansdowne said there was only one way of seeking this peace, and that was by forming a combination of great powers under which the powers would hold themselves bound to refer international disputes to some kind of international tribunal.

Lord Lansdowne asked if it would not be true to add that if the cohesion of Germany could be obtained to such a pact it would mean the negotiation of Prussian militarism. He said there would be no room for Prussian militarism inside such a combination.

The speaker said he accepted wholeheartedly the suggestion of Mr. Lloyd George that territorial questions should not be settled on the basis of a national self-determination. The speech of Count Von Hertling, the imperial German chancellor, was a disappointment to him, Lord Lansdowne added.

"I think nobody would be more surprised than Von Hertling," the speaker said, "if he thought we were going to hand over Gibraltar, Hong Kong and some other little quarters of the earth."
